So boring! By caterpillarlady I didn't buy this book, I got it out of the library, but I really did read the whole thing. Very disappointing. It was basically about rich white men, not about greenhouses. The men who had the money to afford them, the men who designed them, the men who managed the plants. I really wanted to learn about greenhouses: warden boxes, fruit walls, glass, heating, ventilating. But mostly it is just names and dates. So boring!
