The book has alot of info on varieties as well. Great !0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great bookBy EricLots of ideas outside of the citrus zone! My trees are thriving1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Barbara SkerrittThis is a vaery good simple book to help you start growing citrus at home!

A book for people outside the traditional "Citrus Belts" that want to grow their own Grapefruits, Oranges, Limes, Etc. A how to book on the ins and outs of growing citrus trees in containers, including fertilizing, soil mixes and of course, cold protection.

About the Author Darren Sheriff is a Certified Professional Nurseryman, a Charleston County Master Gardener and he works for Hidden Ponds Nursery in Awendaw, South Carolina. He is known as The Citrus Guy and has more than 65 different varieties of citrus in his yard, all in containers. Darren is the founder and current President of the Lowcountry Fruit Growers Society as well as the current President of the Coastal Carolina Camellia Society. Recently becoming an accredited Camellia Flower judge, he judges and competes all throughout much of the southeast. He loves education and teaching, so he started a gardening blog to help extend that mission. It is not only educational but also sometimes funny and hopefully always inspirational.
