Every page is a visual feast and thoughtfully described. International inspiration combined with an eclectic appreciation of fabulous art covers every page of this stunning book. In addition to being a visual treat, it is also worth taking the time to read and appreciate! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. That she managed to find such good pieces to work with By Carlos Raffo The work pictured in the photographs is so refined and of such quality, that I surprised myself being unconsciously extra careful when touching the paper in order to pass the pages. That she managed to find such good pieces to work with, and how she was able to incorporate them into these highly sophisticated interiors, is testimony to her knowledge and talent. This book is pure JOY! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By rockbound One of my favorite design books to find inspiration. Absolutely beautiful interiors.

Sandra Nunnerley has worked on prestigious residential interior design commissions around the world from urban apartments and town houses to tropical getaways to country homes and estates for over 20 years. Interiors lavishly chronicles Nunnerley's design vision, as expressed through these exquisite projects. Sumptuously illustrated with beautiful photography thematically organized in chapters on Serenity, Individuality, Refinement, Glamour, and more, the book documents how a wide variety of inspirations, including her globe-spanning travels, have influenced Nunnerley's work and how she thinks about design, suggesting how we might also look at the world around us to arrive at our own design approach. For the first time, fans of Nunnerley's graceful and global vision can appreciate her attention to every subtle detail in splendid residences, many of which display important art collections and dramatic architecture. Included are such projects as Nunnerley's design for a thoroughly modern home featuring site-specific commissions by world-class artists, and a glamorous duplex that once belonged to Hollywood producer Jack Warner in the Sherry-Netherland Hotel. "As European editor for Architectural Digest and later creator of Architectural Digest France, I've closely followed the evolution of Sandra Nunnerley's career. Her background in architecture and fine arts gives true depth to her work, and in her beautiful book, she brings the past and the future together with style."

"Every Big Decorator eventually produces a Big Book. New York-based New Zealand decorator Sandra Nunnerley has hatched a handsome one, well written on her behalf by Christine Pittel and laid out across pages the size of window panes. Her top end credentials are artfully demonstrated by the jacket, which shows a staircase hall where a painting by Matisse hangs above a Frits Henningsen sofa next to a bronze by Willem de Kooning." -World of Interiors "Nunnerley takes the reader on a richly detailed journey into the story behind her award-winning interiors." -Veranda "...her book displays her vision at its sumptuous best." -Belle "Sandra Nunnerley is known for creating spaces that embrace the qualities of subtlety, individuality, refinement and glamor. Her elegant designs incorporate everything from her travels all over the world to her affinity for old Hollywood to her love of fashion" -Dering Hall "Bringing together contemporary design and classical allure with cosmopolitan flair, Nunnerly creates wonderful apartments and houses that are both beautiful and livable...her recently published book, [Interiors] provides further insight into the extent of her talent, highlighting the cool beauty and timeless quality of her work." -Esensual Living "[While] Interiors is a chance for readers to get familiar with her aesthetic, it also gives Nunnerley the opportunity to look at her creations in a new light." -Departures About the Author New Zealand-born interior designer Sandra Nunnerley lives in New York City, where she runs a design studio specializing in high-end residential projects. W magazine has called her one of the most fashionable designers, she has been featured in Architectural Digest's list of the 100 most influential designers, and House Garden (UK) named her in their international guide of leading designers. Her work has appeared in numerous publications, including The World of Interiors, Elle Decor, and Vogue Living.
