

[Download free ebook] Lighting the Site

Lighting the Site

Eva Mur Rubio

*ePub / *DOC / audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF*

 Download

 Read Online

#19743465 in Books 2007-02-01 Original language: English PDF # 1 8.50 x .50 x 5.751, #File Name: 8495709112168 pages | File size: 25.Mb

Eva Mur Rubio : Lighting the Site before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Lighting the Site:

Both the functional and expressive capacities possessed by light are covered in this study of the application of artificial light in architecture. Making clear the importance of light to contemporary architectural design, particular attention is given to how light becomes part of a design and affects the design in different ways according to the light's intensity, source, color, and form.

About the Author Eva Mur Rubio is an architect and interior designer and the director of editorial projects for Vertigo Publishers. Her collaborations include exhibitions for Macba and Milan's Triennale as well as participating in architecture publications such as Annals and Parallel 41.